

Brandywine Photonics

Brandywine Photonics turn napkins sketches into science hardware. Whether optics, cryogenics, electronics, or system engineering, there is no job too big or small. Their customers have included NASA Ames, NASA Goddard, the US Naval Research Laboratory, the Indian Space Research Organizations, and numerous more down-to-earth applications. Their specialty is in optical remote sensing, specifically hyperspectral imaging, whether spectrometers, interferometers, or filter-based instruments.
