Data Recognition Corporation

DRC was founded in 1978 as a service firm specializing in test and survey administration and processing. They began with 50 employees in one location—a small group of people dedicated to differentiating their company by providing superior customer service. Since that time, DRC has evolved into a full-service information management company with a staff of more than 650 full-time employees and over 5,000 seasonal and temporary employees in 12 locations around the country.
